

What Will YOU Do This Year?

Anita Simons shares her New Year's Resolution:

I've made a new year's resolution to do the following with Occupy this new year:

1) Spend more time with OccupYrCorner and less time down at Civic Center

Two of the busiest intersections in SD are Balboa & Genesee and Garnet & Mission Bay Dr. Another corner I used to "occupy" for anti-war and healthcare issues was Nobel and La Jolla Village.

I've got handouts and I've got one sign on a stick. I can get more, and we can make new ones.

I will do this every Saturday from noon - 2pm and any other weekday that I can gather the most volunteers to do with me. Any volunteers for Sat and a weekday?

2) Work on a political campaign to Occupy Congress with better representatives who support 99%. So far, I've chosen to work for Lori Saldena to replace Brian Bilbray. If you care to join me or find another candidate, let me know.

3) I will continue to sing for change in "Occupella Chorus" at every opportunity to spread our musical message. This will include:

Jerry Seinfeld - Sat, Jan 7 @ 7 & 9:30 (I can do this @ 6:30 - 7 anyone else?)
and

Cats - Tues, Jan 10-15 (times vary every day, but usually 7 or 7:30 and on Sat @ 2pm & 7:30 and Sun @ 1pm & 6:30 (any takers for Sat and/or Sunday?)

4) Any other actions that the Women's group promotes to grow the movement (i.e. occupying foreclosed homes, street-theater type activities, etc), I will try to also participate. I feel that going downtown to protest for tents, sleeping in the plaza and other actions are not promoting the Occupy movement. My time is best spent working on growing the movement outside of Civic Center, supporting candidates who support the 99% and bills that will help us achieve some goals.
